Diffusion of Religion

3.7: Explain what factors lead to the diffusion of universalizing and ethnic religions.

Religions

- Have distinct places of origin
- Diffuse from origin to other locations by various processes
- Practices and Belief Systems impacted how widespread the religion diffused

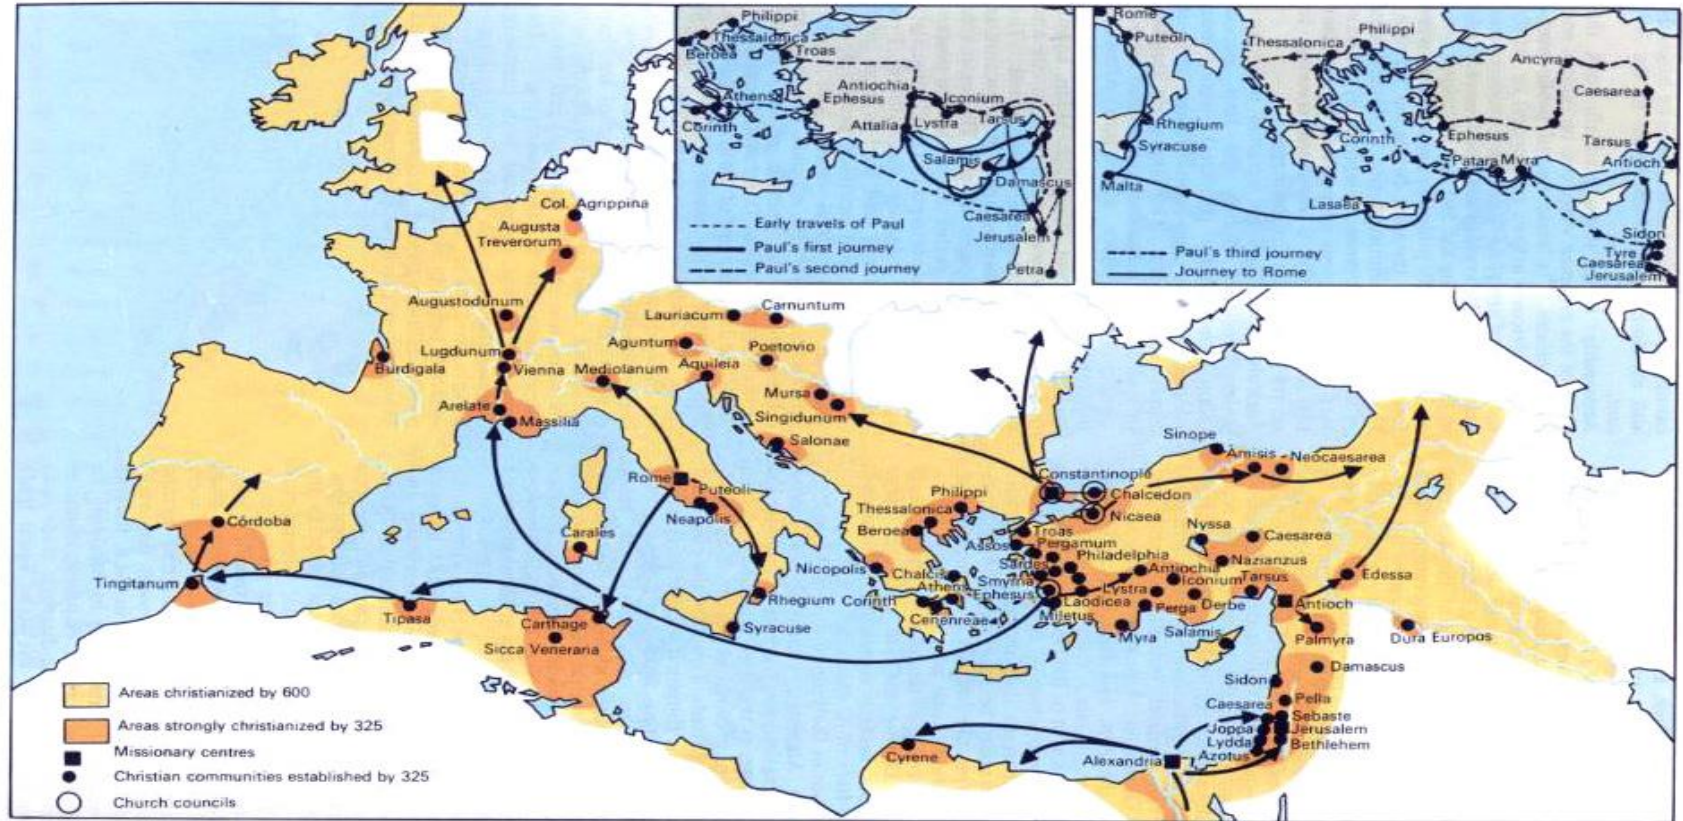

Which religions are most likely to diffuse through expansion diffusion?

Universalizing Religions:

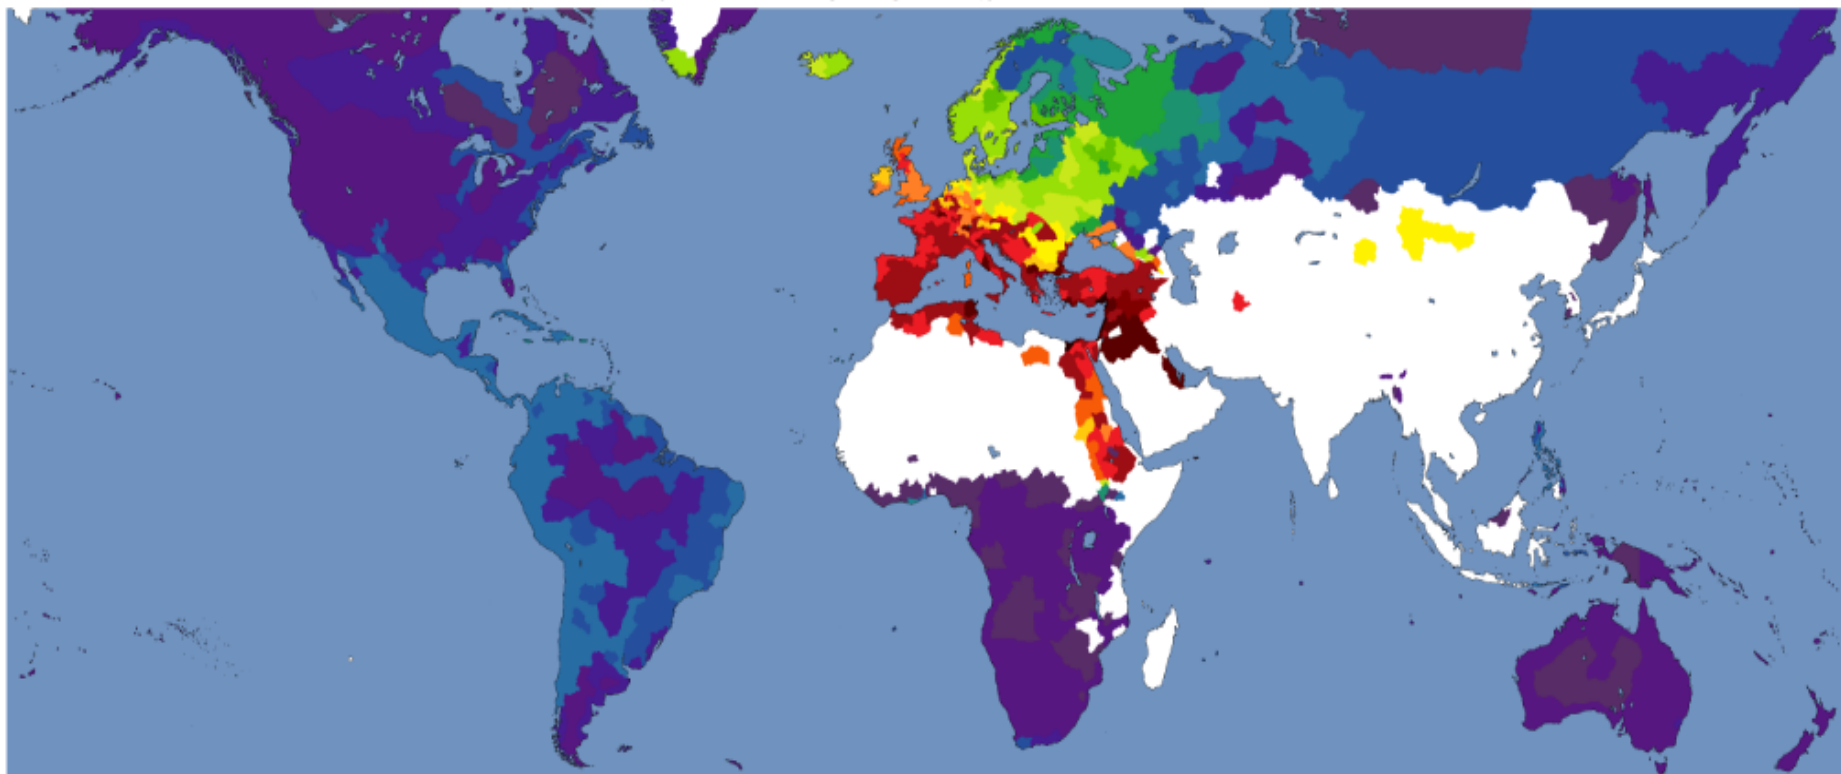

- religions with belief systems that have wide appeal across many different cultures/societies
 - religions that actively seek new converts (like via missionary work)
 - Examples: Christianity, Buddhism, Islam and Sikhism
 - Most often diffused via contagious, stimulus, and hierarchical diffusion (Imperialism/Conquest/Coercion).
 - Trade Routes often aided contagious and stimulus diffusion
- But remember, it can also diffuse via relocation diffusion*

Later Diffusion of Islam

Sikhism

Diffusion

- Diffused outward from its origin in Pakistan, particularly towards northern India
- Sikhs have a global diaspora today and are especially prominent in the U.S., Canada, the UK, former British colonies of East Africa, and Australia
- High concentration of Sikhs exist in Punjab region
 - Straddles Northwestern India and Northern Pakistan

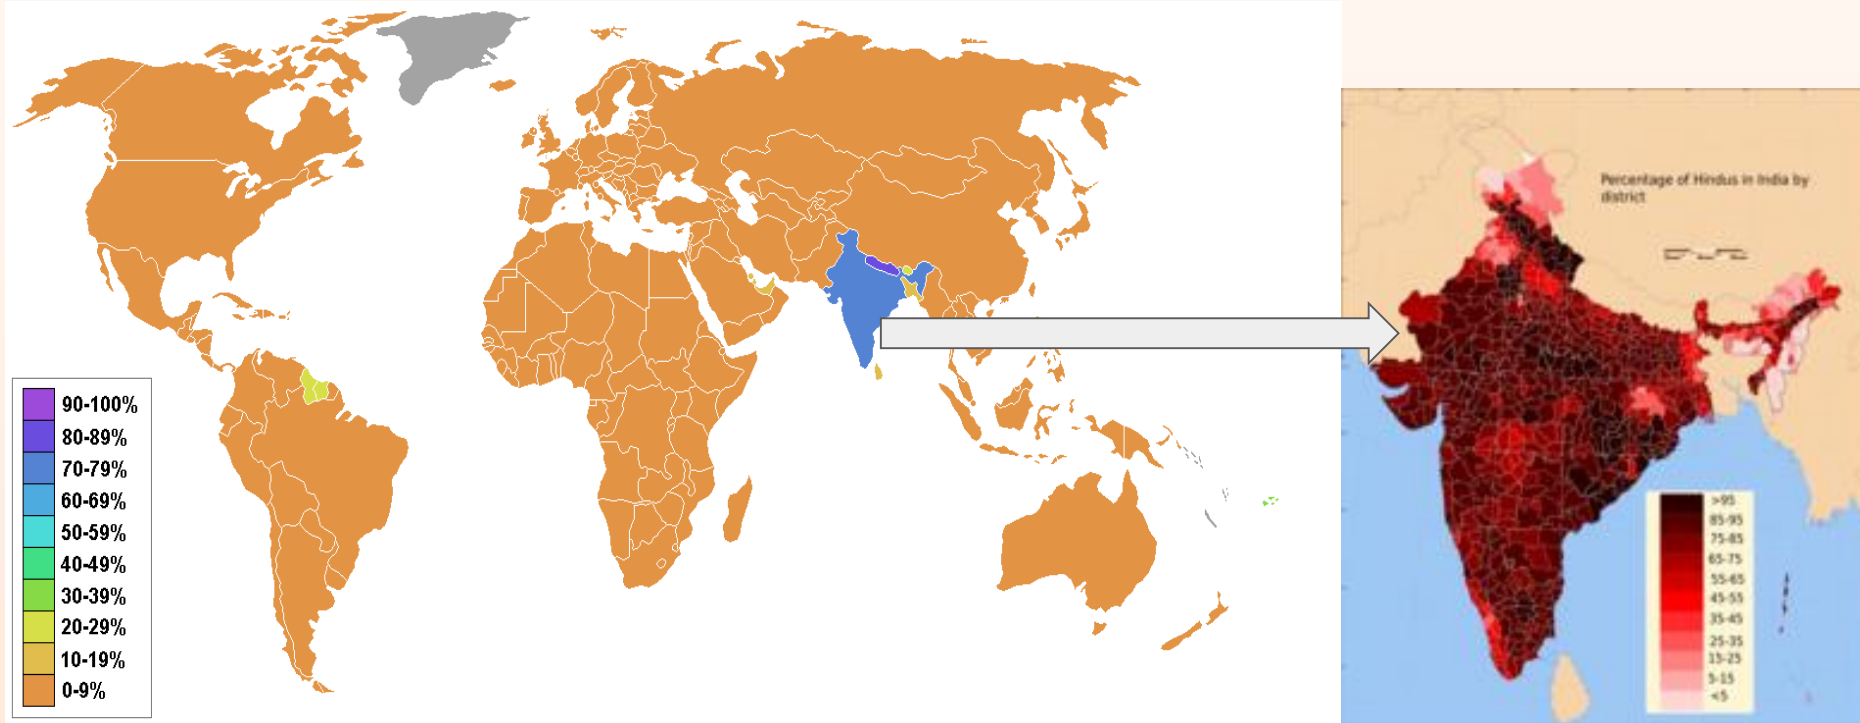

Which religions are most likely to diffuse through primarily Relocation Diffusion?

Ethnic Religions:

- Usually found concentrated near their religious hearths
- Usually do not actively seek new converts as the religion is often associated with a particular ethnic group to which one is born
- Although conversions can occur, these conversions are not on a mass scale
- Examples: Judaism and Hinduism

Case Study: Culture, Placemaking

Directions:

- You will take a few introductory notes and then watch the Documentary, Sacred Journeys: The Hajj.
- As you watch, take notes on the film regarding religious practices and purpose of the Hajj, geographic location of Hajj, Sense of Place/Placemaking

Placemaking is a collaborative or group process of creating quality places that people want to live, work, play and learn in. The nature of placemaking is shaped by culture and expressed in the cultural landscape as well.

These places can attract many people, and most places that have had successful placemaking, also see more people visit. Regardless of how big or small, placemaking can occur anywhere people have built something.
