Effects of Diffusion

3.8: Explain how the process of diffusion results in changes to the cultural landscape.

Cultural Adaptation: Sequent Occupance

For a single place or region, different dominant cultures replace each other overtime impacting the cultural landscape.

Sequent Occupance

Acculturation versus Assimilation

Acculturation	Assimilation
Process of adapting to a new culture while still keeping some of one's original culture	Complete change in the identity of a minority culture group as it becomes part of the majority culture group
A La Carte - Pick and choose while keeping aspects of original culture	Prix Fixe Menu - You must eat ALL courses served - no substitutions allowed

Example: Immigrants currently coming to U.S.A; can lead to a two way exchange of cultures (transculturation).

Example: USA Forced assimilation policy of Native Americans: Native American children were forced to leave reservations/families and attend boarding schools where they were not allowed to speak their native tongue, dress or practice religion of native culture. Usually only a one way street as dominant culture usually does not adopt minority culture.

Syncretism versus Multiculturalism

Syncretism	Multiculturalism
The birth of a new culture trait from blending two or more culture characteristics	The policy or practice of maintaining a diversity of ethnic cultures within a community, society or country.
Example: Sikhism blends beliefs of Hinduism/Buddhism like Reincarnation with beliefs of Islam like monotheism and spiritual equality	Example: Bilingual Education that does not seek to end the practice of speaking one's native tongue while learning a 2nd or 3rd language.
Example: Haitian Vodou blends African traditional practices with Catholicism when assimilation to Catholicism was enforced by Spanish and later French colonizers Example: Pidgin and Creole Languages	Seeks the inclusion of the views and contributions of diverse members of society while maintaining respect for their differences and not demanding assimilation with dominant culture.

Cultural Globalization

- Can harm indigenous cultures and threaten the constitution of national cultures.
- Literature, music, motion pictures, the Internet, satellite and cable television, mainly from English-language sources combine to diminish and potentially eliminate the media and culture of other linguistic groups.
- Architecture, transportation infrastructure, food, clothing, missionary efforts of proselytic religions can also diminish indigenous cultures

Cultural Resistance

- At times, groups resisted demands for assimilation.
- For example, Ghost Dancing in the 19th century.
 - In the western United States, Native Americans tried to rehabilitate their traditional cultures. Dancing and songs were a way to hasten their prophecy that an imminent return of the dead would include an ousting of whites and restoration of native lands, foods supplies and way of life.

Cultural Survival

- Efforts to research, understand, and promote the protection of indigenous cultures.
- Examples:
 - Heritage Tourism: Tourists are encouraged to visit cultural sites and culturally enriching activities while traveling. This type of tourism is often designed with the intent of reducing poverty in the community.
 - An example of a cultural heritage preservation project that has greatly helped a small, rural community is the Rural Revitalization Drama Festival. It occurs in Shixia Village in China and showcases traditional Chinese Opera.
 - Irish Language Preservation Efforts: The government made the Irish language a compulsory subject in school and attitudes toward the language changed. No longer was it seen as a backwards language; the Irish population began to take pride in their language. There are even some schools where Irish is the primary language of instruction.
